

ENGLISH 10

DAILY PLANS WEEK OF JANUARY 19-12

MONDAY, MARCH 13, 2017

- As a class read the curriculum and the syllabus
 - What is unusual about this class as compared with other classes you have experienced?
 - How is the set up of this book different from other books you have read?
 - Does Mitch give his old professor a gift for himself to remember Morrie by, or so Morrie would remember Mitch?
 - How do Mitch and Morrie say goodbye? What does this say about their personalities?
- Objective- Students will learn the background information about the relationship between the main characters.

TUESDAY, MARCH 14, 2017

Read “the Student” and “The Audiovisual”

Discuss questions and write responses.

Objective- Read and Comprehend a literary work.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 2017

As a class, read “The Orientation” (p. 26–31).

Finish question packet

- Turn in by the end of the hour.

For homework read “The Classroom” (32-40)

Objective- Students will learn to analyze a text by answering complex questions.

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 2017

Read “The Classroom”

What did Morrie mean by his statement “Living unhappily is just as sad as dying.”? Was Mitch happy? What happened to his dreams? Was Morrie happy? What was his life like? How could Morrie be happy if he was terminally ill? Compare Morrie’s life to Mitch’s life.

Schoology- complete response

Objective- Students will read and understand a novel-realize how important happiness is and that people achieve happiness in different ways.

FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 2017

Quiz over last weeks reading

Read "Taking Attendance"

Discussion-

- What happened when Mitch returned from London? How did he feel about it? What did he do? With whom did he share his feelings?
- Mitch recalls his sophomore year in college, a time when his relationship with Morrie continued to grow. What happened and how did Mitch feel about his relationship with Morrie?
- How does Mitch's relationship with Morrie compare to his relationship with his own father?

Objective- Students will read and understand a novel focusing on the flexibility of life and the importance of the people in one's life.